It has been some time since I have been awakened to write a dream in the night, but so the Spirit of the Living God, the Most Holy Spirit, did tell me when I questioned the source of the dream and whether or not to write. That it is obvious as the day is from the night... whatever things are good and honorable and praise worthy in the sight of GOD and of OUR LORD AND SAVIOUR JESUS THE CHRIST; if it bears fruit to the Glory of them both, we should do those things (the 2 greatest commandments Love God and Love your neighbor (those whom you meet along the way) and the actions of Love, Christ gave example recorded in the New Covenant of the Holy Book or New Testament Holy Bible more commonly referred to: Actions of Love clearly are to tell those who don't Know Him about Him (preach, proclaim, tell one to one or to groups the Gospel, the Good News, the God News, the God Speak of the life, death, resurrection of Jesus Christ) that He would be Our Redeemer, Our Savior, to restore us from a state of animalistic depravity into holy union and immediate intimate fellowship (so that we may converse with and walk closely with God our Creator, Our Father/Mother); for He is Spirit a combination of the virtuous characteristics of the sexes; yet being neither male nor female as in the nature of appearing in a fleshly body; yet Jesus did appear in a male fleshly body; for it is written it is given unto men Once to Appear before the judgment seat of Christ and again it is written, for the invisible things are MADE Visible (referring to those things not seen such as spirits but which do inhabit physical form at some Time as men refers to a counting of days); therefore let the heretical teaching of reincarnation by one spirit in different forms be forever done away with; this does not mean a past spirit or one that has not Appeared yet can not appear or commune with another spirit in physical form (physical form- Appearing) as with the example of John the Baptist referred to prophetically as Elijah and the presence of Moses and Elijah on The Mount of Transfiguration and many other instances where angels walk among men and women in physical form often who are oblivious to the very presence of angels) as I was saying... we should Do Good Deeds without question and it is obvious the source of the compulsions to do those things therefore. For our enemy does not encourage well-doing but the opposite. While he/she may appear as an angel of Light, they are not of the Light and do not Do as the Light but as darkness and their deeds are in darkness and they encourage to Do Dark deeds; therefore know that it is easily discerned the source of all compulsions for any and all actions in this manner.

And so the dream went thusly:

While in a classroom of students of the age of young adults (from about 18-30 years of age) the facilitator had opened discussion among the students and given the floor. While discussing the topic of human nature and how some seem bent on death and destruction, an over-powering urge to speak Truth to them coupled with the emotion of deep sadness came upon me. And great tears ran over my face so that it was covered with water as I told them that I had seen the destruction of man. And I said to them that the destruction of man will be soon (and while speaking in the dream I thought soon may or may not be by definition in the temporal life existences of those to whom I was speaking but as compared to the generations of men; the history of men as a whole) I saw Many incinerated. And went on to say, and “when you look down and see your charred corpse and look at yourself (and I motioned with my left hand pointing at my right arm and thought in the dream how the spirit will appear exactly like the person inhabiting the body had at time of demise except without the substance of the body; so that they may recognize it is still them, their consciousness and realize they have a spirit form that is their conscious essence) and look back at your charred corpse you will suddenly realize, ‘Oh my god, there is life after death’. And when your spirit is brought before Jesus Christ, you will know you are in His Divine Presence (and I stood up and pointed to my head while saying), not know, mentally, as an intellectual endeavor or in knowing about a certain topic, but KNOW as with your entire being and need no further introduction or explanation; (for your entire being will testify of the Truth of Jesus the Anointed One and Lord of All Creation.) And when you are in His Presence, you will know that the greatest mistake you ever made (and at this point another man stood up out of his seat) and we spoke in synchronicity but he more powerfully (let in the mouth of two or three witnesses everything be confirmed) ... was not receiving the Lord Jesus Christ as Your Lord and Savior. (And I was awakened to write)
