It is easy for us all to forgive the sins we ourselves have committed or been tempted by.

It is difficult but not impossible for us to forgive sins, even heinous ones, when we are not the direct victim of such atrocities.

It becomes next to impossible to forgive such sins that lead to our permanent injury or premature death, such as prolonged torture, poisoning, anything that another person or persons does to us that causes excruciating pain, permanent disability, or premature death.

The more severe the injury to us, the harder it is to forgive the perpetrators; especially when they offer no apology but laugh at our suffering and show intentions of continuing to harm us or others.

This is my own dilemma (which I ask all souls who know and love our Lord Jesus Christ to pray about); I STRUGGLE not to CURSE FOREVER those who attacked me because of the amount of suffering I have endured every day for years now, the loss of my entire estate coupled with unbearable daily personal suffering, has had me SCREAMING OUT LOUD over the urge for VENGEANCE, PROLONGED VENGEANCE, like even asking God if they go to hell and/or the lake of fire, if I can visit just to make sure they are suffering ENOUGH! tempted into thinking I might actually ENJOY hearing their screams!

But I had a dream... yes another dream... and my ex-wife was prostrate and weeping before me and the Lord; asking forgiveness (because she had lied so prolifically all the years I knew her, I thought it was just an act to preserve her soul from the flames of damnation she so richly deserves) BUT because I EVEN HESITATED in my thoughts, the Lord turned to me, and it is the only time I have ever seen Jesus Christ angry and it is the only time I ever want to see Him angry with me for all eternity! He proceeded to begin listing ALL that He had forgiven me of (we are not aware of ALL our sins, or they would crush us under the weight of them); sins we ourselves have forgotten or didn't even realize were so evil until the Lord shows the ramifications of all the good we should have done but didn't and all the evil great and small we did, even almost unconsciously during the days we walked in ignorance and wickedness without His Holy Spirit.

It was then that I began to see ALL sin, is EVIL, even things we think of as little offenses easily forgiven will still damn a soul to the flames; just like a genocidal maniac. It is either TOTAL FORGIVENESS or none at all, for offenses great and small.

EVEN AFTER THE REVELATION I STILL WEEP BECAUSE I CAN'T SEEM TO FIND THE DESIRE TO FORGIVE THOSE WHO TRIED TO MURDER ME AND WITHOUT DIVINE INTERVENTION HAVE SUCCEEDED IN DOING SO IN ONE OF THE MOST PROLONGED AND PAINFUL WAYS TO DIE KNOWN TO MANKIND! so I KNOW who my murderers are, and my ex wife chiefest among them, and I KNOW the reason for my intense suffering, and yet I have this dream telling me that even though she hasn't apologized when she sees the flames of damnation she will most definitely be sorry for her evil deeds. God was showing me plainly He wished me to forgive even those who haven't shown REPENTANCE or REMORSE yet!

I myself am STILL finding it almost impossible to do so! So I am the wrong person to ask about forgiveness, when a significant part of me, feels I have been designed to participate in the Days of Divine Vengeance. Nevertheless, I will forgive any soul Jesus Christ forgives, totally and completely; for love of Him and Obedience to Him; even if He should forgive those who have personally harmed me most.

In the meantime, just as God does not crush us all with the full knowledge of our sins and the ramifications of our sins, He also is understanding that we ourselves do not even know all who we have offended and whether or not they have forgiven us, and likewise we are only conscious of a small portion of offenses against us; as such, general forgiveness should be standard operating procedure for all sins great and small; while NOT leaving unrepentant criminals loose to harm others. In other words, we arrest evildoers not for vengeance sake, but to uphold law and order and to prevent the unrepentant from harming even more than they already have.

We should consciously and specifically forgive what God allows us to be aware of and pervasively forgive even that which we are not; while still upholding our duty to Justice by arresting those who have not yet repented of their crimes and must be stopped in order to prevent them from harming others.

Because I have seen such great evil in my life, I totally pass all Judgment where it belongs; such that I will take Vengeance with our Creator on whom He takes Vengeance upon and consent to His Justice completely; I will also forgive any whom He forgives and consent to His Mercy completely.

In the meantime, I still call for the arrests of the criminals who attacked me, while I seek the desire to find the capacity to forgive them and pray for their souls; such that they do not end up in the everlasting flames of damnation.

The capacity to love is the Gift of God, and the capacity to truly forgive; especially when injury is severe, is most definitely also the Gift of God. Only when we see ourselves as the one who injured our LORD personally, do we find the DESIRE to forgive those who injured us personally. Our sins put Him on the cross as surely as those who screamed for His Crucifixion; and it is only when we can comprehend that He loved us when we were His murderous enemies, that we can perhaps find that Love in Him flowing also through us to those also who may in the moment be even our murderous enemies.

<https://www.facebook.com/notes/michael-swenson/why-i-do-not-like-muslims/855804814498479> - we need to pray that all souls would come to repentance and the knowledge of our Lord and Savior Jesus Christ; even those currently doing great harm and great evil on earth. PLEASE PRAY MORE SERIOUSLY, EARNESTLY AND FERVENTLY that ALL SOULS would REPENT and COME TO KNOW OUR LORD AND SAVIOR JESUS CHRIST, by being filled with HIS HOLY SPIRIT worldwide!!!!!!!!!! Pray that God would move upon the nations; all people everywhere to come to our senses and stop doing evil things to each other!!!!!!!!!! That He would have Mercy on us all and permanently end these days of wickedness, darkness and ignorance and enlighten humanity as a whole!!!!!!!!!! COME LORD JESUS! COME!!!!!!!!!! Amen.

In the meantime, forgiving even our worst enemies, those who have done us great personal injury; is something I pray, reflect and meditate on virtually daily since the attacks on my life.

When I screamed at GOD because the physical pain I was enduring was truly unbearable; about why were such evil persons still loose in the world:

Why couldn't I secure their arrests to keep them from harming others?!

Why mass murdering doctors and nurses and sex offending cops?!

Why the worst criminals in the places that we give the most trust to even with our lives?!

He kept showing me over and over and over again Christ Crucified, only in my vision it was pouring rain as if Creation itself, the holy angels were all weeping in the moment, water and blood, on his beaten and torn body nailed to the cross. I was screaming NOOOOOOOOOO! not for these!!!!!!!!!! not for the scum of the world!!!!!!!!!! and over the years and countless repetitions of the vision, the answer from God was yes, YES, my son, even for the scum of the world, even for the scum of the universe, yes, my son, even ... for.... you.....

Understand that the Spirit of the Living GOD, JESUS CHRIST, did NOT speak those words to me; it was rather an impression, a feeling, an inference I got from the abundance of the visions that came in response to an overwhelming desire for VENGEANCE against my enemies, a RAGE and a FURY so intense that it was only matched by the idea of the endless agony of hellfire itself; because nothing conceivable in this life could justly punish them for the hell they put me through.

The visions that came in response to my rage and desire to see my enemies burning in hellfire and enjoyably listen to their screams, was Jesus Christ, the ONE who CREATED and MADE us all, reminding me; that but for His Grace, His Saving Grace, I might have done even more horrible things than what I experienced on the receiving end of the sin and crimes of others. He was reminding me, that He suffered and died to Save and Redeem ANYONE who would repent of such wicked deeds; even those who personally attacked my own life. He was reminding me that He can Save and Transform even the vilest of men; as He has done and is still doing for myself. He was reminding me; not to stand in the way of His Work, His Sacrifice for us all, TRUE SALVATION, that transforms even our thoughts into Holiness and Righteousness, thereby transforming us from deeds of wickedness, selfishness and vice, to ones that are honorable, charitable and virtuous. He was reminding me that He will save and transform even a man's mortal adversaries into everlasting friends.

The EverLiving LORD of all Creation, Jesus Christ, was reminding me; despite my pain, suffering, rage and fury, that He came to SAVE souls; not destroy them. <http://biblehub.com/interlinear/luke/9-56.htm>
